Effect Paralysis

Duration (4+1d6+Lvl)Phases

The Beast's baleful cry freezes the marrow of his victim's bones, paralyzing them with fear. The Subjects are aware of their surroundings, but are powerless to act. One CRR is made for all Subjects, but multiple Duration rolls can be made. If attacked before the end of Duration an affected Subject suffers a -DEF Mod. equal to the Beast's Lvl, but the Subject is then free to act. Once a Subject has been affected by the Beast's cry they are immune to its future use.

There's nothing more dangerous than a wounded animal and so it is with the Beast. Once Seriously Wounded his PDC increases one class and he gains a Damage Bonus equal to his Character Lvl. In addition he may continue fighting after he has gone below 0 Hit Points, up to -(CON) in damage. When this occurs the Beast collapses and returns to his Human form with 0 HP. If the Beast goes below -(CON) HP he returns to Human form with the negative HP total plus his Beastial CON. When Seriously Wounded the Beast must make a WILL Save to keep from attacking Friend and Foe alike.
